

FCC Commissioners
The Federal Communications Commission RE: Docket 04-435
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners ,

I am writing to voice my concerns about the FCC's proposal to relax the restrictions on the use of cell phones on airplanes in flight.

There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments. The introduction of cell phone use in the cabin will not only increase tension among passengers having to listen to other people conversation with no way to get away from them is unthinkable. Resently, before the plan took off, I had to endure a person cursing out his employee for 10 minutes in a loud manner. I pay to flight in peace. Additionally it will compromise flight attendants' ability to maintain order in an emergency. Cell phone use could also enable terrorists to coordinate a plan of action more effectively.

Please, please, please leave the current rules in effect. This is only one of a few places that we don't have to endure the rudeness of the unthinking public.

Sincerely,

Betty Brown
